Peace EU Style

Each week we present what we call a prophecy update. We check the news for stories that seem to corroborate centuries old prophecies found in the Bible.

The Bible contains definite prophecies that the leader of a revived Roman Empire will sign a peace treaty with the nation of Israel.

In order for that to occur there has to be a nation of Israel and a revived Roman Empire.

Israel did not exist as a sovereign nation again until relatively recently. And although Europe was pretty divided until even more recently the European Union is gaining in power on the world stage.

With those elements in mind, it was fascinating to find a story posted to gulfnews.com titled, Israel fears EU may push for peace in 2013.

Excerpts:

Israel believes that the EU may try to force it and the Palestinian National Authority to reach a peace agreement in 2013, according to a report published in the Israeli daily Haaretz.

The report, based on an Israeli foreign ministry document, states that the EU seriously doubts the viability of the peace process in its current format to end the Palestinian-Israeli conflict, and believes that it needs a new format for there to be progress in 2013.

According to Haaretz, the report states that the Europeans may try to promote the establishment of an actual Palestinian state independent of negotiations with Israel.

I'm not suggesting this is the prophesied peace treaty. I'm only showing how the news lines up exactly with what you'd expect from reading the Bible.

If not now, soon there will be a peace treaty with Israel enforced by the leader of the revived Roman Empire. That treaty's signing marks the beginning of the seven-year Great Tribulation.

We won't see it; we won't be here. Jesus and His apostles promised that His coming to resurrect and rapture the church was not only imminent but that it would occur prior to any portion of the Great Tribulation.

Jesus could come for us, to resurrect and rapture His church, at any moment.

Are you rapture-ready? Get ready, stay ready, and keep looking up. Ready or not, Jesus is coming!
